THE BARRE DAILY TIMES

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1912.

Things are coming Governor Wilson's way, not the least of which was his personal victory in the New Jersey primaries.

Maine's first hunting fatality reminds us in Vermont that soon we shall be doing the same—unless the hunters are sensible.

They are already talking about "leaders of the Senate" and of the House at Montpelier. The leaders will not be named beforehand; they will rise up through the force of their own personality and ability, and all in due season. It is too early to speak of "leaders."

In accepting the chairmanship of the Bull Moose convention in Concord, N. H., yesterday, Governor Bass neglected to mention his gratitude to the Republican rank and file for elevating him to a position which, otherwise, never would have been his.
